

George Eisman was induced into the Vegetarian Hall of Fame by the North American Vegetarian Society in 1993.

George Eisman

George Eisman, Registered Dietitian and Nutritional Consultant, is the Education Director of the Coalition for Cancer Prevention, Pembroke Pines, FL. He is also the author of two books The Most Noble Diet: Food Selection and Ethics and The Basic Course in Vegetarian and Vegan Diet.

Both books will be featured at our book table so make sure to check them out.

presents

The Most Noble Diet

Positive Alternative Therapies in Healthcare at the

Miami Museum of Science & Planetarium
3200 S. Miami Avenue
Miami, FL 33129

MORE INFO:

Phone: 305-275-3958
www.pathusa.org
Email: pathinfo1@aol.com

Monday, March 23, 2009
8:00pm

Members Free---Guests $5

Come early for our Sharing/Caring with Dr. Steven Green at 7:00 pm

George Eisman has been a Registered Dietitian since 1978. He is the founder of the Association of Vegetarian Dietitians and Nutrition Educators, and co-founder and first Chairman-Elect of the Vegetarian Nutrition Practice Group of the American Dietetic Association. He has worked as a dietitian at Miami Children's Hospital and Mount Sinai Medical Center in Miami Beach, and at Wesley Woods Nursing Home in Atlanta, before serving as a Public Health Nutritionist for the State Health Departments of Florida, Georgia, and North Carolina.

He has taught nutrition at the college and university level for over 20 years, having served as a faculty member at Florida State University, Broward Community College and Miami-Dade Community College

7:30 Meryl Brandwein, ND, LDN
Registered Dietitian & Licensed Nutritionist precedes our Guest Speaker with her philosophies of whole food nutrition and a balanced approach to health.

Join us this month for a lecture about Diet and Cancer Prevention from two experts in their field.