

Do you eat eggs?
Does your church serve eggs?
Learn the horrible truth

To produce one egg, each hen has to spend 30 hours crammed into a cage with several other hens who live this way for a year and a half...tens of thousands of birds stuffed into cages stacked on top of each other in dark buildings laden with the stench of ammonia that burns their eyes, damages their lungs. They only see daylight on their way to slaughter. And each hen is always surrounded by the incessant shriekings from tens of thousands of other distressed birds.

After they stop producing eggs, their debilitated bodies are pulverized into chicken broth because there isn't enough solid flesh left to be sold as "meat."

Male chicks are of no use to the egg industry so they are murdered...by the tens of thousands...every day.

Free-range? Whatever minor advantages there may be for free-range laying hens over battery caged hens, male chicks are still murdered and when the hens no longer produce eggs, depleted laying hens all go to the same slaughterhouses.

Do you want to end this pain and suffering?

Treat ALL God's creatures with compassion and
dignity...GO VEGAN

www.all-creatures.org

Do you eat eggs?
Does your church serve eggs?
Learn the horrible truth

To produce one egg, each hen has to spend 30 hours crammed into a cage with several other hens who live this way for a year and a half...tens of thousands of birds stuffed into cages stacked on top of each other in dark buildings laden with the stench of ammonia that burns their eyes, damages their lungs. They only see daylight on their way to slaughter. And each hen is always surrounded by the incessant shriekings from tens of thousands of other distressed birds.

After they stop producing eggs, their debilitated bodies are pulverized into chicken broth because there isn't enough solid flesh left to be sold as "meat."

Male chicks are of no use to the egg industry so they are murdered...by the tens of thousands...every day.

Free-range? Whatever minor advantages there may be for free-range laying hens over battery caged hens, male chicks are still murdered and when the hens no longer produce eggs, depleted laying hens all go to the same slaughterhouses.

Do you want to end this pain and suffering?

Treat ALL God's creatures with compassion and
dignity...GO VEGAN

www.all-creatures.org

Do you eat eggs?
Does your church serve eggs?
Learn the horrible truth

To produce one egg, each hen has to spend 30 hours crammed into a cage with several other hens who live this way for a year and a half...tens of thousands of birds stuffed into cages stacked on top of each other in dark buildings laden with the stench of ammonia that burns their eyes, damages their lungs. They only see daylight on their way to slaughter. And each hen is always surrounded by the incessant shriekings from tens of thousands of other distressed birds.

After they stop producing eggs, their debilitated bodies are pulverized into chicken broth because there isn't enough solid flesh left to be sold as "meat."

Male chicks are of no use to the egg industry so they are murdered...by the tens of thousands...every day.

Free-range? Whatever minor advantages there may be for free-range laying hens over battery caged hens, male chicks are still murdered and when the hens no longer produce eggs, depleted laying hens all go to the same slaughterhouses.

Do you want to end this pain and suffering?

Treat ALL God's creatures with compassion and
dignity...GO VEGAN

www.all-creatures.org